MAUI NOTES

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, Oct. 1.—Rev. Henry P. Judd conducted an institute for the Sunday school teachers at the Hauku church last Tuesday afternoon. In the evening Revs. A. Craig Bowditch and R. B. Dodge preached to the large audience that gathered.

At the Fisher hearing on Friday afternoon at the court house in Wailuku, a most representative gathering of citizens greeted him. Men came from all parts of the islands and crowded the court house full. The faces of many of the Hauku-Pauwela homesteaders were noticeable.

The families of Stanley Livingston of Honolulu and Geo. W. Wilbur of Wailuku have gone to Pauwela to take up their homesteads.

Mrs. Henry Alexander returned to Honolulu last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Battelle have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Penhallow since last Wednesday. Mrs. Battelle returns today.

Miss Kiste Wilcox of Lihue has been visiting Mrs. R. H. Floggett of Hamakua and Mrs. K. J. von Zedwitz of Lahaina.

Mrs. J. P. Cooke, who has been spending a few weeks on Maui, visiting her mother, Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, returned on the Lurline last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Irene Aiken has left Maui for a year's study at the College of Hawaii, where she is regularly matriculated. Her mother is at present staying with her other daughter, Mrs. F. W. Hardy of Makawao.

W. H. Ingle, business director of the Wailuku Gymnasium, was called to the Coast by cable last week. He went on important business, but will return as soon as possible to his work on Maui. He left on the last Lurline.

Rev. S. P. Kaala was installed pastor of the Honokohau church last Sunday afternoon by a committee of ministers appointed by the Maui Association of churches at their meeting at Kaunakakai. Rev. H. P. Judd preached the sermon, Rev. D. W. K. White gave the right hand of fellowship, Rev. L. B. Kaunakakai gave the charge to the people and Rev. R. B. Dodge the charge to the pastor. The committee made the trip from Wailuku to Honokohau and back during the afternoon. In conjunction with this pastorate, Rev. Mr. Kaala will preach at Kalahele.

Mrs. L. E. Jones sang "The Prodigal Son" at the Wailuku Union church last Sunday evening. She has one of the sweetest and best trained voices in Hawaii. The large congregation present greatly enjoyed her beautiful rendering. For some years Mrs. Jones sang in some of the largest churches in Boston. Her last appointment in that city was at the First Baptist church in Somerville, which is noted for its excellent music. The choir of the Wailuku Union church began its fall and winter work again on Sunday. They sang most acceptably "Oh How Amiable." Mrs. Jones is now a member of the choir of the Union church. G. G. Irwin, Moses Kaunakakai and Joseph H. Kuniwa were also voted in as new members.

HAWAIIAN LODGE NO. 21, F. & A. M.

THERE WILL BE A SPECIAL meeting of Hawaiian Lodge No. 21, F. & A. M., at its lodge room, Masonic Temple, corner of Hotel and Alakea streets, THIS (Wednesday) EVENING, October 2, 1912, at 7:30 o'clock.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—"Only the purest of hops and malt"—this is the expression which is used to answer every query as to the composition of beers when propounded to any one of the thousands and odd "masters" in the breweries of the United States. A brew-master who understands his business would just as soon think of telling you the combination of his safe deposit box as to relate the true composition of the product of his brewery.

It makes no difference if the brewery be large or small, whether the brew-master's salary be $20,000 a year, as is the case in a number of the greater "suds-factories" of Milwaukee, St. Louis and New York or $20 a week as may be the case in the little breweries, where the annual product only meets a part of the consumption of a town of a few hundred souls.

"Only the purest of hops and malt" is the brew-master's slogan, and in Maine, if there is any beer made, in Maine, to California, where they don't know anything about beer anyhow.

The brew-master's slogan is not borne out by the facts. True, hops and malt are two of the components of American beer. Malt is the larger component in the list of products which go to make up beer but along with it go a tremendous volume of corn and rice. As for hops, there is more grape sugar in the American beer output any minute than there is hops, and the brew-masters know it.

In the foregoing table it will be seen that the malt component of American beer is 56,187,880 bushels. That is the actual amount of pure barley malt which goes into the American beer output, but along with it there is, as representative of the grains which will produce the necessary fermentation and are cheaper than barley, 2,767,169 bushels of Indian corn and 2,068,867 pounds of rice. Then numbered in the grain category also are 5,082,104 bushels of other grains including wheat and combinations of wheat with other less common grains.

G. A. R. SMITH, WHO HAS FOUGHT AND WON

G. A. R. Smith, proprietor of the Vienna Bakery, located on Fort street, opposite the head of Pauahi, is today "celebrating" the seventh anniversary of the establishment of his business in this city.

October 2, 1905, Mr. Smith began in a very modest way, opening a bakery in a small storehouse opposite the Catholic cathedral on upper Fort street. The first few years he had a desperately hard, uphill fight, and several times failure seemed to be staring him in the face. But with a courage that would have done credit to some of the greater business men of the world, he stuck to the fight, with the result that he is today on the high-road to a realization of his dream of years—business success.

About six and a half years ago Mr. Smith moved his establishment into the present large quarters of the Vienna Bakery on the Waikiki side of Fort street. In the new location business has gone ahead by leaps and bounds, as it were. Besides a large and ever-increasing business at the shop, Mr. Smith has built up a large outside clientele, supplied by three delivery wagons, which call at all parts of the city and suburbs.

On this, the seventh anniversary of his business, Mr. Smith is extending to his friends sincere thanks for past patronage, and solicits a fair trial by those who have not hitherto been his regular patrons. His past record is a guarantee of his success in pleasing everyone.

Hops, which are supposed to impart the flavor of all good beer, appear in the tabulation of American beer components to the extent of 4,276,378 pounds and along with hops a coloring and flavoring as well as many other ingredients of beer go to make up the 5,074,761 gallons of glucose syrup and 5,082,104 bushels of other grains.

The foregoing composition of American beer may be considered the basic composition. It is interesting to the student of the application of the national laws against adulteration of food and food products to note that even this is not all. It will be seen how far from true is the reiterated assertion of the brew-masters that "Only the purest of Hops and Malt" go into the particular beer which is their pride and livelihood, but along with the difference from the facts must also be considered the minor ingredients of the American products. More than two score of special variations of the hop sugar grain and chemical combination which makes beer are of record in the offices of the United States commissioner for the internal revenue. The secret is guarded nowadays. At one time it was public property but not since 1896 has the commissioner been willing to give up his data, even to the department of agriculture, which annually asks for the bureau's data and as often as it asks is refused. The excuse of the internal revenue bureau is that the industry which is taxed on an excise basis is entitled to the confidential treatment of its trade secrets.

Other Components Used.

The following is the list of extra components which go into American beer. The proportions are secret. The only index as to just how much of their inclusion in the national beer output constitutes adulteration must be judged from the fact that they do enter into the composition of beer.

Anhyelic sugar, barley sugar, black malt, brewers' extract, candy, rock candy, cereal coloring, color malt, brown malt, weiss beer, concentrated weiss beer, corn flakes, corn grit, corn meal, wheat, wheat meal, Irish moss, lupuline, salicylic acid, ising-glass, dextrin malt, dextrine, mazon, maize-malt, hominy, honey, hop extract, hop substitute, meal moss, maltoid, patent wheat, saccharine, soda sugar, sugar malt, sugar meal and wheat malt.

All this combination of chemical and vegetable variations number in bulk, as follows: Grains, 5,082,104 bushels; other solids, 2,468,067 pounds; liquids, 78,492 gallons.

Uncle Sam's Position.

"Only the purest of Hops and Malt" and Uncle Sam's bureau of internal revenue put in a position where it has to back up the fabrication by refusing to give out all the figures for fear of upsetting somebody's monopoly on a good receipt for making the best of beer out of the "Purest of Hops and Malt and nothing else."

PEARL HARBOR LINE HELD UP

Construction of the electric railway to Pearl Harbor now only awaits action of the Territorial government in performing a small formality. According to law the work can not proceed until the company makes a contract with the Superintendent of Public Works, as the proposed line crosses a public road.

Through its attorneys, the Pearl Harbor Traction Company some time ago submitted a form of such contract to the Superintendent of Public Works, since when the document has reposed in ineffective status in a pigeon hole of the department. Whether the delay in attending to the matter is due to the Fisher investigation, or to the fact that the head of the Public Works Department has resigned and is in private employ, can not be said. It is only known that the Attorney General is ready and waiting to pass upon the contract whenever it is submitted to him—but it cometh not to his desk.

BUILDING DECLINE FOR LAST MONTH

Building permits for new construction in September contain a total estimated cost value of $106,508, and permits for repairs and alterations, $22,808, making $129,316 altogether. These figures are a decrease of $141,577 from August in new construction, and an increase of $7857 in repairs, etc., or a net decrease of $96,720 in all building permits for last month, as compared with the preceding one.

Since last printed report, or from September 24 to 30, new building permits were issued as follows:

J. E. Gowan, dwelling, Punchbowl, Sanku & Co., builders; $1450.
Lee Len, dwelling, Koko Head street; Wong Wong, builder; $800.
J. R. Souza, dwelling, Funder street; T. Holmberg, architect; Nakaiishi, builder; $2000.
John Schulte, dwelling, Palama; Fukumura, architect; Nakaiishi, builder; $1520.
Lum Foo Chin, dwelling, Long tract, King street; Lum San Tin, architect and builder; $1950.
Chas. Kem Sen, dwelling, Punchbowl; Lan Chung architect and builder; $1020.

Lawyers representing Illinois Indian tribes have brought suit for most of Chicago's waterfront or cash damages of $50,000,000. The claim to the land is based on old treaties with the government.
